PERSONAL POINTS.

Miss Rosa Jones is visiting in Lexington.

Mrs. G. C. Givens is visiting her parents at Paris.

Mrs. M. D. Elmore is visiting relatives in Campbellsville.

Mrs. Sue Holmes, of Crab Orchard, was here Tuesday.

Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Reid are moving to their property on Main street.

A. D. Root, Jr., left Wednesday to enter Elliott Institute, at Kirtsville.

Miss Bessie Webb, of Danville, is the guest of her cousin, Miss Fannie Pennington.

Mr. and Mrs. James Carter, of Queen City, Mo., are visiting his brothers, Ed and Peter Carter.

Mr. C. F. Milroy, who has been clerking for S. L. Powers & Co., has returned to Lexington.

Mrs. Stephen Burch and sister, Miss Rachel Allison, of Georgetown, are visiting friends at Crab Orchard.

Mr. J. T. Lynn came up yesterday and brought us a beautiful new year's gift from one of the prettiest girls in Louisville.

The Lexington Transcript says the most scholarly looking man in the legislature is the Hon. R. C. Warren, of Lincoln.

John Bright, Jr., has taken the position of book-keeper for T. Metcalf and Joe P. Burton that of salesman for S. J. Shanks.

Miss Laura Struble, who has been with S. L. Powers & Co.'s Columbus, O., store, has been temporarily transferred to this place.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Haldeman, who have spent the holidays with her parents at Crab Orchard, returned to Louisville yesterday.

Rev. S. S. McRoberts, who is past four-score, is gradually wearing out and the end of a long and well-spent life seems fast nearing a close.

Mrs. G. A. Peyton received a couple of pairs of buffalo horns, beautifully mounted for parlor ornaments as a Christmas gift from her brother, N. G. Tevis, at Lolo, Montana.

Misses Ida and Lizzie Twidwell have returned to Mrs. Bettie McKinney's. Miss Ida suffers with a throat trouble, which is being treated by Dr. Carpenter. Wear glad to have them back.

CITY AND VICINITY.

A big meeting in the interest of the Cumberland River railroad will be held at Columbia next Monday and an initiation is extended to those interested all along the line to attend.

"The Model Grocery" is well named. Mr. A. A. Warren always keeps a well-selected stock and sells the best articles at the lowest figures. Read his ad., then call and see if the above is true.

STANFORD LODGE NO. 106, of Odd Fellows, elected Peter Straub, Jr., N. G.; A. T. Nunneley, V. G.; A. C. Sine, Secy., and J. N. Menefee, Treasurer, and they will be installed next Tuesday night.

Miss Laura Struble, heretofore connected with the business of S. L. Powers & Co., Columbus, Ohio, has been transferred to the Kentucky Department of the same business and will be for the present connected with their Stanford Store.

The reliable firm of Higgins & McKinney makes a specialty of plows—the Oliver and Hamilton, which they advertise in another column. They keep a full stock also of groceries, hardware, stoves, &c., which they sell as close as the next one.

W. B. McRoberts had his store beautifully decorated with evergreens Christmas, which with the seasonable goods and silverware made his establishment a very handsome one. A photograph was taken of it with him and Jeweler B. H. Danks and a very nice job was made by Mr. Earp.

The number of burials in Buffalo Springs Cemetery increased very largely last year, although there was no epidemic and no remarkable amount of sickness. The sexton, Mr. J. M. Hendricks, says that there were 32 adults and 10 children interred, making 42, against 34 in '88, 32 in '87 and 29 in '86.

As John Gilligan, a resident of the Shelby City vicinity, was crossing Hanging Fork bridge on the Knob Lick pike, his horse became frightened and jumped over the railing into the water, some 20 feet below, breaking his neck on a rock just under the water. Luckily the shafts to the buggy broke and it was left standing on the bridge, or the occupant might have met his death in the fall.

Born, to the wife of John W. Watson on Wednesday night, twin boys.

One of us will be found at our old stand at all times so please call there and settle your accounts as we must wind up our business here in a very short while. Owsley & Craig.

Capt. Carlier's murderer is still at large, but the L. & N. is making strenuous efforts to bring him to justice. Large rewards have been offered and many detectives are trying to win it.

Tom Martin, of the L. & N., held the lucky number, 1,778, in the drawing of the organ at the Louisville Store and has claimed his property, which Mr. Salinger was much pleased to turn over to him.

Is another column appears the advertisement of Mark Hardin, the estimable young gentleman who succeeds Mr. T. R. Walton in the grocery business. He is deserving of patronage and we bespeak for him a liberal trade from the people of Stanford and vicinity.

None of the cold wave predictions have materialized to much extent so far this remarkable season of warm weather, so we are getting rather ashamed to hoist the signals, but we must obey orders, so here goes:

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2, 7 A. M. To W. P. Walton: Hoist cold wave signal. Temperature will fall to about 24° by Friday morning. GREENEY.

BURGLARY. — Wednesday night between 1 and 2 o'clock some thief entered the residence of Mr. Sam M. Owens. Mr. Owens and family were all absent except Owen Miller and Mr. J. W. Lasley, who is keeping jail in Mr. Owens' absence. The thief succeeded in getting a very fine gold watch, the property of Owen Miller, and in so doing awoke Mr. Lasley, who pressed him so hard that he was compelled to drop the watch and run for his life. Mr. Lasley saw the man, but not well enough to tell whether he was white or black. He entered through the parlor window.

ANOTHER business change was made with the new year. Mr. George H. Bruce has sold his interest in the firm of Bruce & McRoberts to S. Porter Staggs and the new firm will be McRoberts & Staggs. The stock has been moved to the corner store in the Opera House building lately occupied by Owsley & Craig. The new firm intends to turn the business on a large scale and strive to merit a full share of the public patronage. Both gentlemen are well-known and have many friends who wish them well. Mr. Bruce has not fully made up his mind as to what he will do, but he has several matters under consideration. We hope at any rate we are not to lose him and his excellent wife from our community.

OUR BANKER.—Cashier J. B. Owsley feels proud of the statement he is able to make for the Lincoln National the last six months. Its earnings were $10,545.08, out of which a 3 per cent. dividend is declared, premiums reduced $1,300, expenses paid and $1,443.19 carried to undivided profits.

Cashier John J. McRoberts also has a good statement. The gross earnings of the First National of Stanford for the same period were $12,740.35. The bank declared its dividend of 3 per cent., paid all expenses and taxes and carried $833.33 to surplus fund.

The Hustonville National shows up well, as it always does. J. W. Hocker, cashier, states that the gross earnings for the six months on a capital of $50,000 were $4,586.46, out of which a 3 per cent. dividend and all expenses were paid and premiums reduced $500, leaving $941.99 as undivided profits.

The examining trial of Isaac Shelby, Jr., for the murder of Green Linkenfelt began at Danville Monday before Judge Lee and did not end until yesterday.

It was proved that Shelby asked several men up to drink with him in Ball's saloon and when Linkenfelt came up with the rest Shelby told him "You are not in this, I am doing this," that some words followed and the shooting began. Shelby claims that Linkenfelt shot first, but in this he is not corroborated. Shelby fired five times, three of his balls taking effect in his victim's head and body. The prosecution proved that an examination of the room shortly after the killing revealed no pistol and a search of the pockets of the dead man no cartridges, but a pistol was subsequently found on the floor and cartridges to match it in Linkenfelt's pockets. A ball of the same size was found in the lining of Shelby's overcoat and a hole in its breast. The prosecution argued that it was impossible for the men to have failed to find the pistol and the cartridges in the first place, or that the ball could have shot been into the coat. Shelby admitted that he bore malice toward Linkenfelt for charging that he had stolen James Moore's hog and that he had slapped his jaws the Sunday before the killing, when Linkenfelt had called him a long nosed son of a b—h. There was much conflicting testimony but the consensus of opinion of those who heard the trial is that it is far from being a favorable case for Shelby. The prosecution was represented by Robert Harding, W. H. Miller and J. S. Owsley and Mr. Shelby by Messrs. M. J. Durham, Hill & McRoberts, R. P. Jacobs and J. W. Yerkes.

The whole of yesterday was occupied by Col. Hill and Mr. Harding in speaking and the latter was still at it at 4:00 Special Dispatch to the Interior Journal.

DANVILLE, Ky., Jan. 2, 1890, 4:20 P. M. —Shelby admitted to bail in the sum of $1,500. P. M. McRoberts.

—Martin Venable Joyes, son of Bro. Barnes' friend, Pat Joyes, was married in Louisville Tuesday to Miss Carrie Barr.

—Alexander Vest, son of Senator Vest, is married at last and to the same girl who jilted him last spring, because of his wild habits. The bride was Miss Kate Servis and she is an heiress.

—Richard Watts, aged 21, and Mary Yocum, 14, and Jack Owens and Nancy Walls, of the same ages, all of the McKinney vicinity, were married by Judge Varnon, at the Court-House, yesterday.

—The marriage of Prof. Stonewall Jackson Pulliam to Miss Nellie Newman, daughter of Col. Matt Mullins, of Falmouth, was solemnized in becoming style at the Baptist church at that place on the 31st. The attendants were Miss Grace Mullins, Prof. R. L. Pulliam, Richmond, Miss Kate Mullins and G. W. Pulliam. Miss Eugenia Pulliam and Messrs. A. G. T. Smith and F. K. Tribble, of this county, accompanied the groomthither. The bride is spoken of as a very charming young lady and we all know that the groom is a most excellent young man. May they be always as happy as now.

DEATHS' DOINGS.

—Mrs. Eliza Head, the mother of E. H. Fox, of Danville, died Monday.

—Mrs. Longstreet, wife of Gen. Longstreet, died at Gainesville, Ga. She went through the Mexican and civil wars with her husband.

—A Fort Worth, Texas, paper tells of the death there of C. M. Russell, formerly of this county, and pays his memory a high tribute. He leaves a young wife, but no children.

—Miss Mary Johnson died at Mr. Lewis Daddar's Wednesday morning of neuralgia and a complication of other diseases in her 60th year. She bore no relationship to Mr. Daddar, but had lived there many years and had been recognized as one of the family. Her remains were laid to rest in the Daddar-burying ground yesterday morning after appropriate services by Eld. J. G. Livingston.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

Commissioner's Sale

Lincoln Circuit Court.

Sarah Cook's Adm., Pfl., vs. Sarah Cook's hrs. and Crs., Defts.; and S. R. Cook's Tr., Pfl., vs. S. R. Cook's Crs., &c., &c., Defts. Notice of Sale in Equity.

By virtue of a judgment of the Lincoln Circuit Court at its October term, 1889, in the above styled case, I will sell

Monday, January 6, 1890,

At 11 A. M. or thereabout (being the first day of the January term, 1890, of the Lincoln county court) sell to the highest bidder at public outcry before the court-house door in Stanford, Ky., the following described property, to wit:

A Tract of Land containing 244 Acres 3 Roods and 8 Poles,

Situated in Lincoln county, Ky., on Dix River and bounded by the lands of David Peoples, Wm. Luckey, Mrs. Luty J. Cook, &c., and also by Dix River and the county road and is a part of the Moses Cook farm. For further description and notes and bounds, the pleadings herein are referred to. Said land has upon it two tenant-houses, an abundance of water for all purposes—good well and river water. Sixty acres of said land are high river bottom and the greater part of the whole tract good farming and productive land. Said land is in a good neighborhood, convenient to churches and schools, on a country road and ¼ of a mile from the Stanford and Freachersville turnpike road.

Terms: Sale will be made on a credit of 6 and 12 months, equal payments, purchaser required to give bond with approved security, having the force and effect of a judgment, retaining a lien upon the land until all on the purchase money is paid, and bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from date until paid.

The object of this sale is to satisfy debts against the estate of Sarah Cook, dec'd., amounting to about $200 and the costs of this action, the remainder, if any, to be divided among her devisees. For information address A. C. Robinson, Lancaster, Ky.
